Join us for our annual Criminal Justice & Legal Studies Discover Your Major Day where you will:

- Dissect the intricate components of the murder of a popular young woman.
- Hear the perspectives of forensic crime scene investigators, police detectives, police chiefs, criminologists, crime analysts, prosecutors, public defense attorneys and correctional experts.
- Work with real-life experts in the field of criminal justice to assess, detect, investigate, analyze, prosecute, defend and adjudicate a crime. Who is guilty? What kind of punishment is just?
- Talk with current students over lunch, and hear first-hand why they chose FDU to prepare for a career in the criminal justice field — or go on to law or graduate school.
- Tour the campus (optional).

Want real work experience or the chance to study abroad?

Our faculty and students will tell you about the field experiences, internships and study abroad opportunities you'll have as a criminal justice major. For example, at Wroxton College, our overseas campus in England, students visit Scotland Yard and other international criminal justices agencies.

Learn about the abundant and growing career opportunities in areas such as:

- Local, state and federal police and law enforcement agencies
- Criminal forensics
- Homeland security and terrorism
- Prosecution and public defense
- State probation and community corrections
- Cybercrime
- Counseling
- Victim advocacy
- Criminal investigations
- Juvenile justice
- Private security
