

FAIRLEIGH
DICKINSON
UNIVERSITY

School of Public and Global Affairs

THE FDU
School of Public and Global Affairs

presents

Transatlantic Professional Development Seminars:
Leadership Skills for the Public Sector

2021-22

LOOKING TO TAKE THAT NEXT STEP?

FDU's School of Public and Global Affairs can help advance the careers of professionals working in the fields of:

- Government
- Law Enforcement
- Security & Emergency Response
- Nonprofit Leadership
- Healthcare Management
- Transportation and Public Services

REGISTER NOW!

For this 4-week Seminar
Seminar Registration Form

VISIT: fdu.edu/mpa/uk

EMAIL: mpa@wroxtton-college.ac.uk

PHONE: 01295 730551

The School of Public and Global Affairs presents seminars that explore topics addressing issues for employees in public sectors including government, law enforcement, security and emergency response, nonprofit leadership, healthcare management, and transportation and public services.

ARE YOU RESILIENT? ARE YOU STRESSED?
DO YOU CRACK OR BOUNCE?

Classes held online on Wednesdays 5:00-8:00 pm GMT
(except Nov. 3 at 4:00-7:00 pm GMT)

• RESILIENCY TRAINING - November 3, 10, 17, 24

Understand and learn more about stressful and traumatic events and how to cope and coach others.

This seminar provides resiliency examples, engages you with role-playing in difficult environments, teaches coping and stress management, and explores the differences between resiliency science and opinion. Audience and occupational perspectives are included, varying from police to emergency personnel.

Sessions are led by Rhudell Snelling, a practising detective in New Jersey.

Participants receive a Certificate upon completion. $375.00 USD per seminar. Students who complete three seminars can receive three graduate credits, subject to matriculation and completion of an additional independent project.

COMING SOON!

Winter/Spring 2022 – Seminar series on the themes

- Crisis Management
- Community Engagement

July 2022 – One-week residential summer school in Public Sector Leadership at FDU's beautiful Oxfordshire, UK campus: Wroxtton College

Collaborate via Zoom with global experts, students and esteemed faculty from our global campuses: USA — UK — Canada

