DEGREE CANDIDATES

Florham Campus degree candidates, see page 10.
Metropolitan Campus degree candidates, see page 21.
Vancouver Campus degree candidates, see page 36.

Note: An undergraduate student whose cumulative grade point ratio (CGPR) for four years is 3.85 will receive his or her degree summa cum laude; if the CGPR is 3.67, magna cum laude; if the CGPR is 3.33, cum laude. Only weighted grades will be included in computing honors. Only the credits taken at Fairleigh Dickinson University, a minimum of 54 credits, will be used in this evaluation.

Due to time constraints, the honors listed therein were determined as of the end of the fall semester. The final listing for the commencement period will include those honors earned as of the completion of the spring semester, and diplomas will reflect this achievement.

This program does not represent an official list of certified graduates.

John E. Harmon, Sr. Doctor of Humane Letters

John E. Harmon, Sr., IOM, has served as the founder, president and CEO of the African American Chamber of Commerce of New Jersey (AACCNJ), since 2007. Harmon serves as an advocate on behalf of the 1.2 million African American residents and the more than 80,000 Black-owned businesses statewide to ensure that policy at the municipal, county and federal level provides fairness, equity and access to a level playing field in the marketplace.

Harmon is the former president and CEO of the Metropolitan Trenton African American Chamber of Commerce (MTAACC). Under his guidance, MTAACC forged strategic partnerships in the public and private sectors to benefit Black businesses throughout New Jersey. Harmon is also the founder and chairman of the New York State Black Chamber of Commerce (NYSBCC).

In addition, Harmon is a board member and the former chairman of the National Black Chamber of Commerce. He is a board member of the United States Chamber of Commerce, the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia's Economic and Community Advisory Council (ECAC), JCP& L, Hackensack Meridian Health and the United States Chamber of Commerce Committee of 100, New Jersey Chamber of Commerce (NJCC), Junior Achievement, New Jersey, and is a former board member of Investors Bank (now Citizens Bank).

Harmon was acknowledged in 2021 and 2020 by Return on Information-New Jersey (ROI-NJ), as the Number 1 Person of Color in New Jersey. He was inducted into the New Jersey Business Hall of Fame 2021 Class of Laureates. Harmon was also selected for ROI-NJ 2021 and 2018 Power List of Influencers, as well as NJBIZ 2021 and 2018 Power 100. He is recognized as a Center of Influence (COI) for the U.S. Army and was selected as a participant in the Joint Civilian Orientation Conference (JCOC 18) hosted by the Secretary of Defense.

After gaining his associate degree, Harmon enrolled at FDU, where he earned his bachelor's in business management. Shortly before graduating in 1983, Harmon received a call from FDU's career development office encouraging him to apply for a management-training program for future bank presidents. Of 150 candidates, he was one of only 12 chosen — and the only African American. Harmon later completed a four-year Chamber Executive Management Program at Villanova University in 2014.

Prior to his career as a chamber executive, Harmon was employed at The Bowery Savings Bank in New York City, where he managed the Residential Real Estate Department; and at Chemical Bank, where he managed third-party loan originations. Following his banking career, Harmon founded a transportation company in 1989, called Harmon Transfer, Corp. Harmon has three sons: John Jr., Joshua and Justin.

She will graduate summa cum laude with a bachelor of science in information technology with a minor in business administration. During her four years at FDU, Anh has been on the Academic Honors list every semester. She cofounded and led Code4Fun — the only programming club in the University, hosting knowledge-sharing and project-building sessions with her peers. She also excelled as a delegate in UNA Canada's Youth as Peacebuilders forum and as a student representative in FDU Vancouver's Commencement Ceremony Committee in 2018. To prepare for her future career, Anh has had software-engineering internships in various tech companies. Most notably, she joined Apple in summer 2020 as an intern on their iOS Accessibility team and worked on the Hearing Accessibility features for iOS 14, getting an outreach of a billion iPhone users. Anh also has become a fellow for Major League Hacking's Production Engineering program.

THE PRESIDENT

Christopher A. Capuano became the University's eighth president on July 1, 2016. He previously held a series of leadership positions at the University over a period of more than 25 years, most recently as University provost and senior vice president for academic affairs.

Under Capuano's presidency, the University has undergone a comprehensive strategic-planning process that led to significant developments including the restructuring of colleges and schools and the creation of more centers of excellence, the launch of a historic capital campaign and key initiatives — including a major tuition reduction — that further the institution's longstanding goals of fostering greater access and affordability and providing pathways toward upward social mobility for students from all walks of life. FDU has also recently gained widespread recognition both for the University in general and for many of its outstanding programs. These include for the first time reaching the Top 50 (currently #44) in the North region of the United States in the U.S. News & World Report's collegiate rankings. With this foundation in place, the next phase of strategic planning is underway and promises to continue to enhance the value of an FDU degree, further distinguish its innovative programs and provide even more opportunities for students to transform their lives.

Prior to becoming president, Capuano as University provost and senior vice president for academic affairs provided important decision-making in forming a strong leadership team in the School of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, which resulted in consistent enrollment growth and full accreditation with the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education. In addition, he was instrumental in securing a large gift to support the University's Daniel and Martina Lewis Center for Healthcare Innovation and Technology.

Capuano previously served as vice provost for international affairs. In that position, he provided oversight of the University's Office of Global Partnerships and worked closely with the University's Office of Global Learning to facilitate study abroad and other international initiatives. Moreover, he led the development of the University's new campus in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, and served as the Vancouver Campus provost for a year during a critical transition period. As director of the School of Psychology for nearly 15 years and a former doctoral faculty member in the University's Ph.D. Program in Clinical Psychology and Psy.D. Program in School Psychology, Capuano provided important leadership in developing the school into one of the largest and more prestigious schools at the University. His many accomplishments in this position included the establishment of the postdoctoral certificate program in clinical psychopharmacology and its transition to a postdoctoral Master of Science degree program — a program that has earned national recognition and is currently only one of just a few programs recognized by the American Psychological Association for postdoctoral training in clinical psychopharmacology.

As a former faculty member and biopsychologist by training, Capuano introduced and taught key compulsory courses in both doctoral programs in the School of Psychology. His research included the design, implementation and supervision of experiments in neuropsychopharmacology and health psychology.

Capuano earned his Ph.D. in biopsychology and two master's degrees from the Graduate and University Center of the City University of New York, as well as his B.S. in biological sciences from Purdue University.

TRADITIONALLY...

Traditions link the present to the past and the future. In addition to the academic customs exhibited in the Commencement ceremony, Fairleigh Dickinson University has several unique traditions on display today.

At Fairleigh Dickinson, the academic processional includes the bagpipers, a practice dating back to the University's eighth commencement in 1951. Since then, it has become a tradition at graduation and other ceremonies for the pipers to play.

Other traditions recognize Fairleigh Dickinson University's global and multicultural background. For example, international flags have become a part of many ceremonies and events.

THE UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1942 by Dr. Peter Sammartino and his wife, Sylvia (Sally), Fairleigh Dickinson University has grown into the largest private university in New Jersey and offers more than 100 degree programs at the associate, baccalaureate, master's and doctoral levels. More than 11,000 students from 40 states and 60 other countries are enrolled on FDU's two campuses in New Jersey and its overseas campuses in Wroxton, England, and Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

Beginning as a two-year junior college in Rutherford to respond to the need for higher education in northern New Jersey, the college expanded to a four-year curricula in 1948. In 1954, Bergen Junior College in Teaneck was purchased as a second campus. In 1956, Fairleigh Dickinson attained university status. One year later, the Vanderbilt-Twombly estate in Florham Park and Madison, New Jersey, was acquired to serve as another campus.

FDU became the first American university to own a campus in England when it acquired Wroxton College from Trinity College, Oxford University. Opened in 1965, Wroxton College offers American students an array of graduate and undergraduate programs as well as an enriching cultural experience.

Over the years Fairleigh Dickinson University has maintained its commitment to broadening global horizons and fostering greater international understanding. In 2000, the Board of Trustees adopted a newly focused mission for FDU: "Fairleigh Dickinson University is a center of academic excellence dedicated to the preparation of world citizens through global education. The University strives to provide students with the multidisciplinary, intercultural and ethical understandings necessary to participate, lead and prosper in the global marketplace of ideas, commerce and culture." The University opened its second international campus in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, in fall 2007.

Each University campus has developed a unique character and vitality. The Metropolitan Campus, located in Teaneck and Hackensack, features a university atmosphere with an international perspective attracting nearly equal numbers of graduate and undergraduate students from throughout the United States and around the world. The Florham Campus in suburban Madison and Florham Park offers a classical undergraduate and graduate experience for the contemporary world in a small college setting.

Fairleigh Dickinson University has enjoyed special partnerships with prominent institutions around the globe. For example, the University has been associated with the United Nations since it was founded in 1945 and has earned special designations with the world body that provide unique learning opportunities for students and faculty.

With the depth and breadth of its faculty and programs, Fairleigh Dickinson University has transformed the lives of its students and positioned itself as a quality, comprehensive private university serving the citizens of New Jersey and beyond.

INTERNATIONALLY DIVERSE

In addition to the United States and the U.S. island territories, Fairleigh Dickinson University students hail from a wide cross section of countries including Afghanistan, Albania, Australia, Austria, Bangladesh, Barbados, Brazil, Canada, Chile, China, Colombia, Czech Republic, Denmark, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Egypt, El Salvador, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Ghana, Hungary, Iceland, India, Iraq, Israel, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Jordan, Kazakhstan, Kuwait, Latvia, Lithuania, Macedonia, Malaysia, Mexico, Morocco, Myanmar, Nigeria, Pakistan, Peru, Portugal, Romania, Russia, Saudi Arabia, Serbia, South Africa, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, Taiwan, Thailand, Trinidad and Tobago, Turkey, Uganda, United Kingdom, Venezuela and Vietnam.

PILLAR SOCIETY

The Pillar Society was instituted to recognize those exceptional individuals who have made extraordinary contributions to the character and quality of the University, its community and culture. Criteria include serving FDU in a non-faculty role for at least 10 years on a level below the rank of vice president. Recipients are invited to participate in the Commencement ceremony procession.

THE ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic regalia worn by University officials and faculty at today's Commencement ceremony are infrequently seen outside of formal academic occasions.

The gowns, caps and hoods once were the regular apparel of European university students and faculty during the Middle Ages.

At that time, both faculty and students were considered part of the clergy and were required to don the ecclesiastical dress, roba and caputum, patterned after the habit of the Benedictine Order.

The regalia also served a practical purpose, providing warmth in the unheated stone buildings of most medieval universities.

In the United States, caps and gowns had been in limited use by colleges and universities since Colonial times. It was not until a century later that a widespread student movement resulted in the formal use of the attire at commencement ceremonies.

Faculty members readily accepted the return to a dignified and traditional dress for graduations and soon extended the custom to other formal academic functions.

By 1895, a uniform code for academic dress had been adopted in the United States, and although no formal worldwide standards have ever existed, certain basic and traditional elements are evident in most academic attire.

The Gowns

Participants in academic ceremonies are expected to wear the regalia to which they are entitled by virtue of the highest degree they hold.

Gowns worn by those with bachelor's degrees are distinguished by a semi-stiff yoke, long pleated front, intricate shirring across the shoulders and back and long pointed sleeves open at the wrists. The gown must be worn closed.

Master's degree holders wear a similar gown of either silk or wool with the same yoke effect as the bachelor's degree robe. The master's gown may be worn either open or closed in the front.

The doctor's gown, also worn either open or closed, is usually made of silk and velvet with full and round sleeves open at the wrists. These gowns are distinguished by long velvet panels down the front of the gown and three horizontal velvet sleeve bars, which may be either black or the color distinctive of the academic discipline in which the individual holds the doctoral degree.

Although the color of these gowns is traditionally black, some institutions have adopted robes in their school colors.

The Caps

The most familiar item of academic regalia is the Oxford or mortarboard cap with its distinctive tassel. Explanations of its origin include suggestions that its shape was inspired by the quadrangular Oxford campus or by the actual master workman's mortarboard. Perhaps a more plausible theory is that it was designed flat and about the size of a scholar's book for ease in carrying. Material for most caps varies from serge and broadcloth to rayon and silk, although caps worn by doctoral degree recipients may be of velvet.

The most distinctive feature of the cap is the tassel, which is positioned to hang from the left front quadrant of the cap. The tassel is black for bachelor's and master's degree holders, but gold for Ph.D.s and the primary governing officials of an institution. While the mortarboard cap is used by the vast majority of institutions around the world, some schools have adopted a soft, square-topped cap, but still retain the tassel.

The Hoods

The most distinctive feature of academic attire, the hood lends color and definition to academic ceremonies. Once used as a head covering, a shoulder cape and even a receptacle for collecting alms in medieval times, the hood is now a purely ceremonial black shell of varying sizes and colored borders suspended from the shoulders and worn down the back.

The significance of academic hoods is symbolized in their varying lengths and the colors and thicknesses of their velvet linings and trim. The bachelor's hood, for example, is three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet border. Master's degree recipients wear a hood three-and-a-half feet long with a three-inch border. Doctoral hoods are four feet long and have a five-inch-wide border.

More distinctive, however, are the colors of the hoods' inner linings and outer trim. The colors of the inner lining correspond to the colors of the institution conferring the degree, while the colors of the border designate the academic discipline in which the degree was granted.

THE MACE

The mace, a traditional symbol of authority, is carried in the academic procession by the grand marshal. The Fairleigh Dickinson University mace was presented to the University in 1957 by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Pollak of New York City. It is one of only three maces of its type in the United States and was purchased for the University from Seymour B. Wyler, author of The Book of Sheffield Plate and The Book of Old Silver.

A very rare example of 18th-century Sheffield plate, it was made in 1765 for the Riddell family and bears its crest. A member of that family was an English representative to the Holland town of Duysberg.

THE PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

Along with the traditional academic regalia and trappings common to colleges and universities throughout the United States, most institutions also possess some unique or distinctive symbol of the presidential office that is conveyed through succeeding administrations. Fairleigh Dickinson University commissioned the design and crafting of a President's Medallion for the inauguration of Robert H. Donaldson on March 29, 1985.

The President's Medallion is in the form of a hexagonal shield, a variation of the University "Shield of Arms." In the center of the Medallion is the gold-plated coat of arms. The motto, Fortiter et Suaviter (Bravely and Pleasurably), is engraved above the shield, and around it are engraved the words "Fairleigh Dickinson University 1942." The gold-plated frame of the Medallion is surmounted by a crest consisting of buildings symbolizing the campuses.

Kurt J. Matzdorf, professor emeritus of gold and silver-smithing at the State University of New York, College at New Paltz, and internationally known for his ceremonial and religious silver, designed and created the President's Medallion.
