IMPORTANT IDENTIFICATIONS

SOCIAL INSURANCE NUMBER (SIN)

To work in Canada, you need a 9-digit number known as a Social Insurance Number (SIN). Below are some information and details on how to apply to receive your SIN.

International students:

You can apply for a SIN in person or online.

[APPLY FOR SIN
ONLINE](#)

To apply in person, visit a Service Canada Office. Bring one of the following documents, as well as your passport:

- a study permit that states you “may accept employment” or “may work” in Canada, OR
- a study permit and a “confirmation to work off campus” letter issued by IRCC, OR
- a work permit (e.g. co-op, post-graduation, or spouse/partner work permit)

Service Canada location closest to FDU: Sinclair Centre, Office 125, 757 Hastings Street West, Vancouver, British Columbia, Monday to Friday from 8:30 am to 4:00 pm (less busy at opening).

Your SIN is confidential. Do not use it as identification or provide it for job applications, rental applications, etc. It will be required by your employer, once you start work.

DRIVING IN BC

All drivers in BC must have a valid driver's license. If you have a driver's license from another country or a valid international driving license, you are allowed to drive as long as you are a registered international student at FDU and carry your driver's license (and a translated copy, if applicable), FDU Student ID card and a copy of your Study Permit when you drive. Check with the Insurance Corporation of British Columbia (ICBC) at www.icbc.com for changes to this policy. Whether you rent, lease or buy a vehicle, you must have automobile insurance in BC. If you bring a vehicle into Canada, you will need to register and insure it within 30 days of arrival, providing it passes the required mechanical inspection.

[VISIT ICBC
WEBSITE](http://www.icbc.com)

BC Driver's license sample card

BC IDENTIFICATION CARD (BCID)

If you do not have a BC Driver's License, it is suggested to get a BC identification card (BCID). Similar to the driver's license, the BCID is a wallet-sized card that has your photo, address, and signature. BCIDs are available to B.C. residents 12 years of age and older.

A BC ID will be used for the following:

- Confirm your address
- Write a cheque or use a credit card
- Confirm your age (especially for 19+ settings, such a liquor stores and bars)
- Prove your identity for flights within Canada

The process to get a BCID:

Walk-in or make an appointment at an ICBC Licensing location. You will need to provide 2 pieces of ID. They will take your photo on site.

GET YOUR BC ID

ICBC Licensing Office location closest to FDU: 1055 W Georgia St Suite 221, Vancouver, BC V6E 3R5. They are open Monday to Saturday from 8:30am to 4:30pm (open at 9am on Wednesdays).

LIVING IN VANCOUVER

Welcome to FDU Vancouver Campus! This guide is designed to assist you navigate the Metro Vancouver rental housing market. Inside, you will find step-by-step instructions on how to rent your home, insights into various rental platforms, important legal resources, and much more.

LIVING COST

Below is a breakdown of essential monthly expenses to budget.

EXPENSE CATEGORY	COST ESTIMATE (PER MONTH / PER PERSON)
Grocery	$300-$450
Cellphone	$50-$100
Health Insurance (MSP)	$75
Public Transportation (Compass Card)	$107.30 to $193.80

UTILITIES AND INSURANCE COST

Depending on your rental agreement, these costs may or may not be included in the cost of your rent.

EXPENSE CATEGORY	COST ESTIMATE (PER MONTH / PER PERSON)
Heat and Electricity (BC Hydro)	From $25
WIFI	$50-$100
*Tenant Insurance	$20-$35

HOUSING COST

Monthly rent can vary widely depending on which city or neighborhood in which you reside.

HOUSING TYPE	COST ESTIMATE (PER MONTH)
Shared or private room in shared housing	$700-$2200
Studio	$1400-$2300
One bedroom unit	$1600-$3000
Two bedroom unit	$2200-$4000

Rental costs increase, the closer you live to Downtown Vancouver.*

BEFORE YOU GET STARTED

1.Determine Your Housing Needs: Are you looking for a shared room, a private room in a shared space, or an individual unit?

2.Decide With Whom You Want to Live: Will you live alone, with family, or with a roommate? Do you have or plan to get a pet (not all rentals are pet friendly)?

3.Set Your Budget: How much are you comfortable to pay for housing, per month? Although living downtown might be more convenient, rent tends to be higher. If you are looking for more affordable options, East and South Vancouver, Richmond, Surrey, Burnaby, New Westminster are great options to explore.

4.Choose Your Preferred Length of Stay: Are you looking for a short-term rental for one term, or a longer commitment, like a one-year lease? Off-campus student housing, short-term rentals and homestays offer flexibility, while rooms and full units often require a longer commitment.

5.Select Your Neighborhood: What are your priorities? Proximity to transit (bus lines or Skytrain stations) can make your daily commute easier. Do you prefer being within walking distance of grocery stores or restaurants? Would you rather live in a quieter area or a lively neighborhood?

HOUSING OPTIONS AND PLATFORMS

1. Off-Campus Residences and Room Rental: These options are popular amongst students seeking a unique experience in a safe and welcoming environment. They offer private and semi-private furnished rooms.

- GEC Living: They have 6 locations within Vancouver, including the Viva location, which is walking distance to our campus.
- 4Stay: They manage multiple units throughout the city and many of them are walking distance to campus.
- YWCA Hotel and Residence: Located 5-minute walk from campus, they offer private rooms with private or semi-private bathrooms, with access to community kitchens, a social room, and coin-operated laundry facilities.
- Vanmates: They offer a range of services, including student housing, co-living arrangements, homestays, and relocation services.

2. Homestay: Living in a homestay provides an excellent opportunity to fully immerse yourself in the local culture by staying with a local family. The rooms are fully furnished, and some include meal packages.

- First Choice International: With host families located around 45 minutes from campus, First Choice International is ideal for students seeking to experience life in Canada through active involvement with their host families. This option is most suitable for single students in their 20s.
- Homestay.com
- Homadorma

3. Short-Term Accommodation: Many students prefer to stay in short-term accommodation once they arrive in Vancouver. This allows you to conduct an in-person home search and get familiar with the city. Here are some popular options:

- Hi-Hostel (West End)
- Airbnb

4. Rental and Relocation Company: They offer custom assistance with your individual home finding needs.

- Van Sweet Home

5. Other Popular Housing Websites:

- Liv.rent: This website is highly secure, with all rental listings verified.
- Padmapper
- Craigslist
- Rentals.ca
- Zumper
- Facebook Marketplace

Disclaimer: FDU offers housing platforms and resources in term of information and does not assume responsibility for agreements made between students and landlords. FDU does not screen, inspect or approve any landlord. We encourage all students seeking accommodation to proceed with caution, do their due diligence and know their rights as tenants.

STEPS TO FOLLOW TO RENT:

1.Explore Housing Platforms: This document lists popular home search websites to help you find your residence. Use search parameters to narrow down options that align with your needs.

2.Contact Listings: When you find units you like, email or call the landlords with a brief introduction. Include details such as the number of occupants, rental duration, if you are a smoker (all units in BC are non-smoking), and whether you have a pet. Mention that you are a university student and if you have a part-time job.

3.Visit Units: To avoid surprises or scams, it is highly advised to visit units in person. Video calls are an option but come with risks, especially for units rented directly by owners. Arrive a few minutes early or inform the landlord if you are running late. Making a good first impression is crucial in this competitive market.

4.Apply for Units: To be considered as a potential tenant, you must request and fill out an application form, after viewing the unit. Provide information about yourself and previous references, if applicable. Do not provide your SIN or send any money deposit at this stage. The landlord will choose a tenant within the applications received.

5.Review and Sign Your Lease: Once accepted, you will be offered a lease agreement. Review and complete the lease promptly. Ensure the following details are correct:

- Rental unit address
- Date of agreement
- Landlord's contact information
- Start date of tenancy
- Address for service of the landlord (different from your new address)
- End date of the tenancy term
- Type of tenancy (month-to-month or fixed-term)

6.Verify ID or Ownership: If renting from an independent landlord, it is advised that you verify their ID and ensure the name matches the lease. If you haven't visited the house in person, verify the address online. You can also perform an ownership search or request the latest property tax statement from the landlord.

7.Pay Damage Deposit: Pay the damage deposit when signing the lease. The deposit is half a month's rent, unless you have a pet, an additional half month's rent is required. Payments are usually made via e-transfer or cheque. If paid in cash, a receipt should be provided. The damage deposit should be returned within 15 days after the end of your tenancy, unless there is damage.

8. Conduct Move-In Inspection: On the day you start your tenancy, inspect the unit with your landlord and complete a Condition Inspection Report. Document any existing damage with photos or videos. Verify the following:

- Working faucets
- No mold or water damage
- Functional appliances
- Working kitchen and bathroom fans
- Functional cabinets, doors, and drawers
- No significant dents or scratches on floors and walls
- No damage to the windows
- Document the state of the furniture, if the unit is furnished

*A landlord may choose to create their own lease agreement or use the BC Rental Tenancy Agreement template. Even if a landlord chooses to create their own tenancy agreement, they can't contract out of the BC Rental Tenancy Agreement (RTA).

*If a move-in inspection report is not completed, landlords cannot keep any of the damage deposit, at move-out.

AVOID SCAMS:

1. Verify Listing and Address: Use reputable rental sites and consider renting from a property manager. If renting sight unseen, confirm the address exists and matches the advertised building.
2. Meet in Person: Always try to meet the landlord and visit the unit in person. Be cautious if the landlord claims to be away and can only show the unit on video.
3. Verify Ownership: If renting through an individual landlord, it is safe to verify the landlord's ID or request the landlord's latest property tax statement to confirm ownership. Ensure the name and address match the lease.
4. Avoid Cash Payments: Landlords should not request wire transfers or cash payments. Never send a deposit before reviewing the lease. Damage deposits are typically paid via e-transfer or cheque, and a receipt should be provided for any cash payments.
5. Watch for Red Flags: Be careful of listings with poor grammar, blurry photos, or prices below market value. Scammers often use stolen information to create fake listings.
6. Additional Resources: Visit Renting-it-Right and BC RCMP for more details on avoiding scams. <https://rentingitright.ca/course1/28-rental-scams>, <https://rcmp.ca/en/bc/safety-tips/frauds-and-scams/rental-scams>

TENANT RESOURCES:

Tenants in BC should educate themselves about their rights and responsibilities. Here are useful resources to explore and seek support, if needed:

BC Residential Tenancies is where, tenants and landlords can find information to guide them from start to end of tenancy.

- Tenant Resources and Advisory Centre (TRAC) offers free legal education & advocacy for BC tenants. <https://tenants.bc.ca/>
- BC Rental Tenancies is where to find all information regarding renting in BC. <https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/housing-tenancy/residential-tenancies>
- Renting-it-Right is an online learning platform that teaches BC tenants how to find rental housing, maintain problem-free tenancies, and resolve legal disputes with landlord. <https://www.rentingitright.ca/>

If you have any questions about your lease, tenancy or rights, please contact the Rental Tenancy Branch at 1-800-665-8779 or TRAC at 604-255-0546.

UTILITIES:

If your rent does not include utilities, you will need to sign up for heat, electricity and internet. Water is usually included in the lease. Some leases will require tenant insurance, prior to moving in. Here are some suggested utilities providers:

- Electricity and Heat: BC Hydro
- Internet and Cable: Rogers and TELUS are internet, cable and phone providers. Oxio and Novus are internet providers but have limited coverage throughout Metro Vancouver.
- Tenant Insurance: Square One, Apollo, BCAA, Westland Insurance

If you require additional support or have any housing related questions, please contact Andrée-Anne, our housing coordinator, at a.pouliot@fdu.edu

ADDICTION AND OVERDOSE

FDU Vancouver is committed to fostering a safe and supportive environment for all students. Recognizing the challenges surrounding addiction and overdose, we offer comprehensive resources to promote well-being and awareness. Our campus provides access to free Naloxone kits and information on overdose prevention and response, as well as confidential counseling services. These efforts align with provincial initiatives to address the overdose crisis through prevention, support, and open conversations.

Students are encouraged to utilize the resources available on campus and to learn more about overdose prevention and response by visiting the information below.

BC EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS HANDBOOK

This guide contains general information about Employment Standards in British Columbia.

Difference Between Part Time and Full Time Work Hours

Full-time (work hours)

This category includes employed persons who usually worked 30 hours or more per week, at their main or only job.

Part-time (work hours)

This category includes employed persons who usually worked less than 30 hours per week, at their main or only job.

* NOTE: Full-time international students may only work “part time” to a certain amount of hours in the Fall or Spring semesters, and full-time during scheduled breaks. You can confirm the current maximum hours with our International Student Advisor. On campus, students may work up to 20 hours per week according to FDU policies.

Minimum Wage

The minimum wage in British Columbia is $17.85 per hour starting June 01, 2025.

Minimum wage applies to all employees regardless of how they are paid - hourly, salary, commission or other incentive basis. Salespersons on straight commission must be paid at least minimum wage for all hours worked in a pay period.

Minimum wage rates for live-in home support workers, resident caretakers and farm workers who hand harvest certain fruit and vegetable crops are set out in the Employment Standards Regulation. Employees who serve liquor are entitled to the liquor server minimum wage. Tips or gratuities are not wages. Employees must be paid at least minimum wage in addition to any tips or gratuities they receive. The liquor server minimum wage is $17.40 per hour (potential updated in June).

Meal Break and Rest Break Regulations

An employee must not work more than five hours in a row without a 30-minute unpaid meal break. An employee who is required to work or be available for work during a meal break must be paid for the meal break. Employers are not required to provide coffee breaks.

Overtime

Overtime is payable after eight hours in a day if extra hours have been added to an employee's schedule, or if the employee works more than an average of 40 hours in a week over the averaging period (e.g., 80 hours over two weeks, 120 hours over three weeks.)

Daily overtime pay is time-and-a-half after eight hours worked in a day and double time after 12 hours worked in a day. Weekly overtime is time-and-a-half after 40 hours worked in a week. Only the first eight hours worked in a day count towards weekly overtime.

Statutory Holidays

The ten statutory holidays in British Columbia are: (2025 dates)

- New Year's Day – January 1
- Family Day – February 17
- Good Friday – April 18
- Victoria Day – May 19
- Canada Day – July 1
- B.C. Day – August 4
- Labour Day – September 1
- National Day for Truth and Reconciliation – September 30
- Thanksgiving Day – October 13
- Remembrance Day – November 11
- Christmas Day – December 25

Easter Sunday, Easter Monday and Boxing Day are not statutory holidays.

To qualify for statutory holiday pay employees must:

Have been employed for at least 30 calendar days and have worked on at least 15 of the 30 days before the statutory holiday.

Employees who worked under an averaging agreement any time in the 30 days before the statutory holiday do not have to meet the 15-day minimum.

Qualified employees who are given a day off on a statutory holiday must be paid an average day's pay.

Qualified employees who work on a statutory holiday must be paid:

Time-and-a-half for the first 12 hours worked and double-time after 12 hours plus an average day's pay.

An average day's pay is the total regular earnings divided by the number of days worked in the previous 30 calendar days.

Regular earnings include wages and vacation pay received for vacations taken, but does not include overtime pay. Days worked includes all days where wages were earned as well as any days of annual vacation taken in the 30 calendar days before the statutory holiday.

Employers and a majority of employees can agree to substitute another day for a statutory holiday. The substitute day must be treated the same as a statutory holiday.

Annual Vacation & Vacation Pay

After completing one year of employment an employee is entitled to two weeks of vacation. After five years, an employee is entitled to three weeks of vacation. Vacation must be scheduled in periods of one or more weeks, unless the employee requests otherwise.

Vacation must be taken within 12 months of being earned.

When an employee takes a vacation after completing one year of employment, vacation pay must be at least four per cent of the employee's total earnings from the previous year.

After five consecutive years of employment, vacation pay increases to six per cent.

A person who is employed for less than one year is not entitled to take a vacation, but must be paid four per cent vacation pay on termination of employment.

Vacation pay is not payable if a person is employed for five calendar days or less.

Information on Dispute Resolution

The British Columbia Employment Standards Branch offers a complaint process to address workplace issues. If you believe your employer has violated employment standards, you can file a complaint at no cost. The process may take several months and involves investigation. You must file within 6 months of your last workday if you are no longer with the employer, or up to 1 year for current employment issues. Confidentiality options are available to protect your identity. The complaint can be submitted online in about 15 minutes. If resolved, the Director of Employment Standards will issue a written decision, which may include penalties for violations. It's important to note that not all work situations are covered by BC employment standards, so it's advisable to check if your specific case applies before filing a complaint.

The Employment Standards Branch helps many employers and employees to resolve complaints informally. If that is not possible a decision is issued which includes mandatory administrative penalties.
