

STUDENT PINNACLE AWARD

Helen Ham

Helen Ham was born and raised in Phnom Penh, the vibrant capital city of Cambodia. Amidst the pandemic, in February 2021, she embarked on her journey for higher education in Vancouver, Canada, transitioning from online classes in Cambodia to campus life at FDU. Helen is set to graduate magna cum laude with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration, complemented by a minor in digital marketing. She has consistently demonstrated excellence in her studies and extracurricular activities throughout her academic tenure. Her high CPGR has secured her a place on the Academic Honors' List for four consecutive years at the Vancouver Campus while earning her a spot in the Beta Gamma Sigma International Business Honor Society, representing the top 10 percent of the senior business class across three FDU campuses.

In 2023, Helen represented FDU as a delegate for the Model National United Nations in New York, specifically in the United Nations Environment Assembly (UNEA). Beyond academia, she has been an active member of the Global Scholars program, fostering cross-cultural learning and embracing diverse perspectives. In her free time, Helen enjoys discovering new coffee shops and cuisines around the city and finding inspiration in the richness of different cultures. She also dedicates her time to fitness at the gym, finding the balance between her academic pursuits and personal interests. Upon graduation, Helen is eager to pursue a career in the marketing sector, leveraging her expertise to drive growth and innovation. She plans to expand into the real estate sector and apply her strategic marketing initiatives to contribute to the industry's advancement.
