DEGREE CANDIDATES

Florham Campus degree candidates, see page 10.
Metropolitan Campus degree candidates, see page 19.
Vancouver Campus degree candidates, see page 34.

Note: An undergraduate student whose cumulative grade point ratio (CGPR) for four years is 3.85 will receive his or her degree summa cum laude; if the CGPR is 3.67, magna cum laude; if the CGPR is 3.33, cum laude. Only weighted grades will be included in computing honors. Only the credits taken at Fairleigh Dickinson University, a minimum of 54 credits, will be used in this evaluation.

Due to time constraints, the honors listed herein were determined as of the end of the fall semester. The final listing for the commencement period will include those honors earned as of the completion of the spring semester, and diplomas will reflect this achievement.

This program does not represent an official list of certified graduates.

Lieutenant General (Retired) Mark Hertling

Doctor of Humane Letters

Lieutenant General (retired) Mark Hertling served for 38 years in the U.S. Army as a tanker and cavalryman, commanding at every level from tank platoon to Field Army. He finished his Army career as the Commanding General of U.S. Army Europe in 2012, where he led more than 60,000 soldiers and partnered with the Armies of 51 nations. He served more than three years in combat, including Commanding the U.S. Army's 1st Armored Division (1AD) and Task Force Iron in Northern Iraq for 15 months during the 2007 surge.

Hertling retired from the military in 2013 and was recruited to be a senior vice president at AdventHealth, the nation's largest nonprofit healthcare system. His first book, Growing Physician Leaders, provides leadership lessons for those in the healthcare industry. He has taught the leadership course he designed at multiple healthcare systems, and there are now more than 1,200 physician, nurse and administrator graduates. He was appointed by President Obama as one of 25 members to the President's Council on Fitness, Sport and Nutrition and served on that council from 2013–2017. In 2021, he was appointed by President Biden as one of 11 commissioners on the American Battle Monument Commission. He still serves as an adviser to the nonprofit organizations Mission: Readiness in California, and Operation Gratitude in Washington, D.C. He served from 2014–2019 as an adjunct scholar at West Point's Modern War Institute, and he currently is a member of the Dean's Alliance at the School of Public Health of Indiana University. He has also served as a national security analyst for CNN and MSNBC.

Hertling received a Bachelor of Science degree from the U.S. Military Academy in 1975, and he holds three master's degrees: a master's of kinesiology from Indiana University's School of Public Health, a master's in military arts and sciences from the Army's School of Advanced Military Studies, and a master's in international relations and security studies from the National Defense University in Washington, D.C. In 2019, he received a Doctor of Business Administration from the Crummer School of Business at Rollins College, defending research addressing physician leadership in the healthcare industry.

Hertling currently serves as a professor of practice at Crummer, and he teaches myriad courses on leadership to MBA students. He also lectures extensively at various institutions and organizations on the topic of leadership, national security, the military, and healthcare. His most recent book, If I Don't Return: A Father's Wartime Journal, released in March 2026, is on the Amazon bestseller list.

STUDENT PINNACLE AWARDS

The Student Pinnacle Award is bestowed upon an outstanding student member of the graduating class. The student should meet the following criteria:

- Reflection of the unique character of FDU in his/her life;
- Significant contributions and outstanding service to the University;
- Significant contributions to society and humanity through public or humanitarian service;
- Cumulative grade point ratio of 3.00 or higher;
- Success or distinction in his/her chosen field of study; and
- Must be graduating in 2026.

Emily Diane Jacobelli

Student Pinnacle Award

Metropolitan Campus

Emily Diane Jacobelli, from Hoboken, N.J., is graduating with a B.A. in psychology. During her time at FDU, she has been recognized on the Dean's and Honor's lists for her strong academic performance. A dedicated campus leader, Emily founded and served as president of the Psychology Alliance, where she organized events, mentored peers and fostered collaborations across student organizations. She has also served as an autistic peer mentor, reflecting her commitment to inclusive support services. Outside of FDU, Emily extends her dedication to her broader community through meaningful volunteer work. Inspired by her sister Gaytana, she is involved with Rock the 21, a nonprofit celebrating and supporting individuals with Down Syndrome, and is an active member of St. Francis Roman Catholic Church. With hands-on experience as a patient coordinator, Emily has worked closely with a licensed psychologist to support psychological assessments and contribute to accurate diagnoses and treatment planning. Emily plans to pursue graduate studies in clinical mental health counseling at FDU, building on her passion for ethical, accessible mental healthcare.

Parsa Mokari Zadeh Asil

Student Pinnacle Award

Vancouver Campus

Parsa Mokari Zadeh Asil, an Iranian international student, is graduating summa cum laude with a B.S. in information technology and a minor in business administration. He received four distinguished scholarships and was on the Honor's List every semester for four consecutive years. Parsa was an active member of the AI, IT and cybersecurity clubs at the University. While studying, he gained practical experience as an IT assistant both on- and off-campus. He completed several technical projects and attended various technology conferences, which helped him expand his knowledge and professional network. Outside of school, Parsa enjoys swimming, playing volleyball and soccer, listening to music and spending time with his family. He credits his father, Reza, for what he has accomplished. In the future, Parsa aims to be a lifelong learner. He hopes to contribute to society through technology and science and plans to stay connected with people who share similar goals and values while doing his part to create a meaningful and positive impact.

Marium Zahra Rizvi

*Student Pinnacle Award
Florham Campus*

Marium Zahra Rizvi, from Old Bridge, N.J., is graduating magna cum laude with a B.S. in biology (honors) with minors in chemistry and medical humanities. She has maintained consistent Honor's List recognition throughout her time at FDU. Passionate about equitable healthcare, Marium has acquired clinical, research and pharmaceutical industry experiences through internships with SD Neurosurgery, Pfizer and ADC Therapeutics. Her research spans immunology, reproductive health ethics and maternal-fetal medicine, and she has had her work published in the Journal of Health Ethics. A multilingual communicator fluent in English, Spanish, Hindi and Urdu, she brings strong patient-counseling and public-speaking skills. Marium is an active campus leader who has served as vice president of the Student Pharmacist Association and president of the South Asian Student Association. She is also deeply committed to global health advocacy through her extensive volunteer work. Marium is a Pharm.D. candidate at FDU's College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences and is expected to graduate in 2029.

THE PRESIDENT

Michael J. Avaltroni was appointed the ninth president in Fairleigh Dickinson's history on April 26, 2023, after serving for a brief period as interim president. A long-time faculty member and administrator, he is the first FDU graduate to serve as the institution's president.

Since becoming president, Avaltroni has led many important initiatives, including engaging the FDU community in the strategic-planning process that led to the development of the plan titled "FDU Will Soar." Among notable initiatives during his tenure, the University created FDU Health, a new division uniting programs in the health sciences. It also established Lifelong Learning at FDU, an initiative to educate across the lifespan. In 2025, Avaltroni announced the launch of FDU HealthPath Forward, a new strategic initiative that is building a coalition of institutions to help develop healthcare-related programs, enhance workforce training, foster innovation in the sector and position the campuses as hubs for lifelong learning, health and wellbeing. In 2025, he also introduced the Humanics Innovation Challenge Fund to blend technological innovation with human literacy, particularly in healthcare education and delivery.

Avaltroni previously served as university provost and senior vice president for academic affairs. Prior to that, he was the dean of the School of Pharmacy and Health Sciences for a decade and played a leading role in the creation of the school and its rapid development, program growth and success. He first joined the University in 2003 as a faculty member and later became chair of the Department of Chemistry and Pharmaceutical Sciences.

Active and influential in the higher education sector in support of the need for changes to meet the challenges of today, Avaltroni serves as the chair of the New Jersey Presidents' Council.

Avaltroni is a 1999 graduate of Fairleigh Dickinson University, receiving a B.S. in chemistry, summa cum laude. He went on to complete an M.A. in chemistry in 2001 and a Ph.D. in chemistry in 2003, both from Princeton University.

THE UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1942 by Dr. Peter Sammartino and his wife, Sylvia (Sally), Fairleigh Dickinson University has grown into the largest private university in New Jersey and offers more than 100 degree programs at the associate, baccalaureate, master's and doctoral levels. More than 14,000 students from across the United States and abroad are enrolled at the University.

Beginning as a two-year junior college in Rutherford to respond to the need for higher education in northern New Jersey, the college expanded to a four-year curricula in 1948. In 1954, Bergen Junior College in Teaneck was purchased as a second campus. In 1956, Fairleigh Dickinson attained university status. One year later, the Vanderbilt-Twombly estate in Florham Park and Madison, New Jersey, was acquired to serve as another campus.

FDU became the first American university to own a campus in England when it acquired Wroxton College from Trinity College, Oxford University. Opened in 1965, Wroxton College offers students an enriching study-abroad experience.

Over the years Fairleigh Dickinson University has maintained its commitment to broadening global horizons and fostering greater international understanding. In 2000, the Board of Trustees adopted a newly focused mission for FDU: "Fairleigh Dickinson University is a center of academic excellence dedicated to the preparation of world citizens through global education. The University strives to provide students with the multidisciplinary, intercultural and ethical understandings necessary to participate, lead and prosper in the global marketplace of ideas, commerce and culture."

The University opened its second international campus in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, in 2007. FDU Vancouver delivers industry-aligned undergraduate and graduate education in business, health, hospitality and tourism, humanities and information technology.

With the depth and breadth of its faculty and programs, Fairleigh Dickinson University has transformed the lives of its students and positioned itself as a quality, comprehensive private university serving the citizens of New Jersey and beyond.

TRADITIONALLY...

Traditions link the present to the past and the future. In addition to the academic customs exhibited in the Commencement ceremony, Fairleigh Dickinson University has several unique traditions on display today.

At Fairleigh Dickinson, the academic processional includes the bagpipers, a practice dating back to the University's eighth commencement in 1951. Since then, it has become a tradition at graduation and other ceremonies for the pipers to play.

Other traditions recognize Fairleigh Dickinson University's global and multicultural background. For example, international flags have become a part of many ceremonies and events.

THE ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic regalia worn by University officials and faculty at today's Commencement ceremony are infrequently seen outside of formal academic occasions.

The gowns, caps and hoods once were the regular apparel of European university students and faculty during the Middle Ages.

At that time, both faculty and students were considered part of the clergy and were required to don the ecclesiastical dress, roba and caputum, patterned after the habit of the Benedictine Order.

The regalia also served a practical purpose, providing warmth in the unheated stone buildings of most medieval universities.

In the United States, caps and gowns had been in limited use by colleges and universities since Colonial times. It was not until a century later that a widespread student movement resulted in the formal use of the attire at commencement ceremonies.

Faculty members readily accepted the return to a dignified and traditional dress for graduations and soon extended the custom to other formal academic functions.

By 1895, a uniform code for academic dress had been adopted in the United States, and although no formal worldwide standards have ever existed, certain basic and traditional elements are evident in most academic attire.

The Gowns

Participants in academic ceremonies are expected to wear the regalia to which they are entitled by virtue of the highest degree they hold.

Gowns worn by those with bachelor's degrees are distinguished by a semi-stiff yoke, long pleated front, intricate shirring across the shoulders and back and long pointed sleeves open at the wrists. The gown must be worn closed.

Master's degree holders wear a similar gown of either silk or wool with the same yoke effect as the bachelor's degree robe. The master's gown may be worn either open or closed in the front.

The doctor's gown, also worn either open or closed, is usually made of silk and velvet with full and round sleeves open at the wrists. These gowns are distinguished by long velvet panels down the front of the gown and three horizontal velvet sleeve bars, which may be either black or the color distinctive of the academic discipline in which the individual holds the doctoral degree.

Although the color of these gowns is traditionally black, some institutions have adopted robes in their school colors.

The Caps

The most familiar item of academic regalia is the Oxford or mortarboard cap with its distinctive tassel. Explanations of its origin include suggestions that its shape was inspired by the quadrangular Oxford campus or by the actual master workman's mortarboard. Perhaps a more plausible theory is that it was designed flat and about the size of a scholar's book for ease in carrying. Material for most caps varies from serge and broadcloth to rayon and silk, although caps worn by doctoral degree recipients may be of velvet.

The most distinctive feature of the cap is the tassel, which is positioned to hang from the left front quadrant of the cap. The tassel is black for bachelor's and master's degree holders, but gold for Ph.D.s and the primary governing officials of an institution. While the mortarboard cap is used by the vast majority of institutions around the world, some schools have adopted a soft, square-topped cap, but still retain the tassel.

The Hoods

The most distinctive feature of academic attire, the hood lends color and definition to academic ceremonies. Once used as a head covering, a shoulder cape and even a receptacle for collecting alms in medieval times, the hood is now a purely ceremonial black shell of varying sizes and colored borders suspended from the shoulders and worn down the back.

The significance of academic hoods is symbolized in their varying lengths and the colors and thicknesses of their velvet linings and trim. The bachelor's hood, for example, is three-feet-long with a two-inch-wide velvet border. Master's degree recipients wear a hood three-and-a-half feet-long with a three-inch border. Doctoral hoods are four-feet-long and have a five-inch-wide border.

More distinctive, however, are the colors of the hoods' inner linings and outer trim. The colors of the inner lining correspond to the colors of the institution conferring the degree, while the colors of the border designate the academic discipline in which the degree was granted.

THE MACE

The mace, a traditional symbol of authority, is carried in the academic procession by the grand marshal. The Fairleigh Dickinson University mace was presented to the University in 1957 by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Pollak of New York City. It is one of only three maces of its type in the United States and was purchased for the University from Seymour B. Wyler, author of The Book of Sheffield Plate and The Book of Old Silver.

A very rare example of 18th-century Sheffield plate, it was made in 1765 for the Riddell family and bears its crest. A member of that family was an English representative to the Holland town of Duysberg.

THE PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

Along with the traditional academic regalia and trappings common to colleges and universities throughout the United States, most institutions also possess some unique or distinctive symbol of the presidential office that is conveyed through succeeding administrations. Fairleigh Dickinson University commissioned the design and crafting of a President's Medallion for the inauguration of Robert H. Donaldson on March 29, 1985.

The President's Medallion is in the form of a hexagonal shield, a variation of the University "Shield of Arms." In the center of the Medallion is the gold-plated coat of arms. The motto, Fortiter et Suaviter (Bravely and Pleasurably), is engraved above the shield, and around it are engraved the words "Fairleigh Dickinson University 1942." The gold-plated frame of the Medallion is surmounted by a crest consisting of buildings symbolizing the campuses. Kurt J. Matzdorf, professor emeritus of gold and silver-smithing at the State University of New York, College at New Paltz, and internationally known for his ceremonial and religious silver, designed and created the President's Medallion.
